Criminal Anarchy as Defined By the New York Penal Code shortly after he reached Cleveland.

The New York Penal Code provides:

SECTION 160. Criminal anarchy is the doctrine that organized government should be overthrown by force or violence, or by assassination of the executive head or any of the executive officials of government, or by any unlawful means. The advocacy of such doctrine, either by word of mouth or writing, is a felony.

SEC. 161. Any person who, by word of mouth or writing, advises or teaches the duty, necessity or propriety of overthrowing or overturning organized government by force or violence, or by assassination of the executive head or of any of the executive officials of government; or openly, wilfully and deliberately justifies, by word of mouth or writing, the assassination or unlawful killing or assaulting of any executive or other officer of the United States or of any state or of any civilized nation having an organized government because of his official character, or any other crime, with intent to teach, spread advocate the propriety of the doctrines of criminal anarchy, is guilty of a felony and punishable by imprisonment for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or both. The provision of the law under which bomb plotters may be tried for first degree murder is as follows: The killing of a human being is murder in the first degree when committed by an act imminently dangerous to others, and evincing a depraved mind, regardless of human life, although without a premeditated design to effect the death of an individual; or without design to effect death by a person engaged in the commission of or in an attempt to commit a felony either upon or affecting the person killed or otherwise.

Fourteen Spaniards, belonging to anarchist groups in New York, were arrested in this city on February 23 for an alleged conspiracy to assassinate President Wilson. The President had just returned from his first trip to Europe, and it was alleged by detectives that plotters planned to kill him on his arrival in New York for his second departure abroad. Ten of the men were arrested in a house on Lexington Avenue by Captain Peter A. Rubano and a squad of detectives. The four others were taken by detectives a house in West Fifty-third Street Although the police were sure of their case, they could not produce suffi-cient evidence to bring about the de-tention of the prisoners, and they were released February 28. It was impracticable, of course, considering the 1,110,000 circulation, but it was a mighty good illustration of the average advertiser's idea of the value of New York City Telephone Directory Advertising.

The point is this—quite a few prospective advertisers waited until too late to get their copy into the May issue so we are taking time by the forelock and suggesting that advertising arrangements for the October issue

The October issue will stay on the job alongside New York City telephones until it is replaced some time in February 1920. It will be consulted, according to conservative estimates, 3,000,000 times each day, and it will provide the same unusual publicity service that is bringing business today to hundreds of telephone directory advertisers, and that is causing these advertisers to renew their advertising issue after issue.
